A Discussion Before Judge Wakeley—A New Enterprise for Omaha—A North Omaha Law and Order League—Other News.

The air has been full of rumors yesterday about a shooting affair which took place, as alleged, at Fallon's Cottonwood villa, on Sherman avenue, last night. The story was to the effect that a number of Omaha pugilist lights, conspicuous among whom was McCormick, were at the road house discussing the merits of various fighters, when a dispute arose as to McCormick's prowess. That worthy, it is said, became wrathful, and suddenly let out his right arm into the face of a man who was making light of him. A free fight, it is said, followed, in which McCormick was shot, receiving a wound, though not necessarily dangerous. Where he was taken to, or what became of the man who did the shooting could not be ascertained.

Professor P. J. Fallon who was questioned about the matter yesterday afternoon, denied that any such affair had happened at his place. He could not account for the rumors, but thought that it was originated by some envious person who wanted to injure him or the reputation of his place.

Later on in the day it was reported that McCormick's wound had been received in a brawl at a saloon in South Omaha, and that he had died. McCormick since the fight in which he broke Al Marx's jaw, has been an arguer in the extreme, and tried to "lord it over" men who he considered inferior in pugilistic ability. It is probable that the trouble of Monday night arose from his too free display of these characteristics.

RAILROAD TAXATION.

An Interesting Discussion Before Judge Wakeley Yesterday Morning.

The much mooted question as to the right of the city to tax railroad property within the corporate limits, was before Judge Wakeley yesterday morning, and was discussed by Mr. Poppleton for the railroad and by City Attorney Connel on behalf of the city.

The question arose on a demurrer filed by the city, to a petition of the Union Pacific railway company, asking for an injunction to prevent the collection of taxes assessed against certain property belonging to the railroad company.

It was claimed by the city attorney that notwithstanding the state law requiring railroad and telegraph companies to make returns of its property to the state board of equalization, the railroad company had power to assess all such property as might be within the limits of the city, the same as the property of other corporations and individuals is assessed. Mr. Poppleton denied the correctness of this proposition, and contended that for the purpose of city taxation the pro rata proposition of mileage, as determined by the state board of equalization, was the only proper system of the taxation of railroad right-of-way, depot, grounds, etc. Mr. Poppleton also urged that even such system was not correct, all objection thereto should be addressed to the legislature, in place of to the courts.

During the argument, the city attorney asked Mr. Poppleton if he denied the proposition, that under the present state law, if the charter in express terms gave the city the right to tax all railroad property within the limits, according to valuation, the city would have such right, and that such right would not be in conflict with the state law.

To the question of the city attorney, Mr. Poppleton responded, that if such charter provision was made, the city would have such right, and it would not be in conflict with the state law.

Upon the conclusion of the arguments, Judge Wakeley took the case under advisement, and will probably render his decision before the adjournment of the present term of court.

With regard to taxes involved in the litigation, it was further claimed by Mr. Poppleton as a matter of fact that the city had already collected taxes for the year in controversy, according to the system for which he contended, and the city attorney admitted that if such was the fact, the city could not again collect taxes for such year upon a valuation assessment, for that would amount to double taxation.

GOVERNMENT CASH.

Lieut. Kingman Tells How it is to be Expended.

Lieutenant Dan Kingman has returned from his trip to New Orleans, and is packing up preparatory to leaving for that place within the next week.

"I have been appointed district officer of the fourth district of the Mississippi river," said that gentleman to a reporter yesterday. "The territory I have to cover includes that portion of the river from Warren, just below Vicksburg, to the head of the jetties. The government is commencing extensive improvements in that section—such as the removal of sand bars near the mouth of the river and the building of submerged dams in the Atchafalaya river to prevent the Mississippi from breaking down its barriers and sweeping through the channel of that river, on its way to the gulf. Extensive improvements are also being made on the New Orleans harbor, such as the construction of protective barriers against the undermining of the banks."

"How much has been appropriated by the government for carrying on your work?"

"Altogether, about $600,000." Of the amount, about $180,000 is available.

Lieutenant Kingman has not yet been relieved from his position as officer in charge of the Yellowstone park work. Inasmuch as the work is all done in the summer when the water in the river is so high as to prevent work being carried on it is probable that Lieutenant Kingman can attend to both branches of the government service.

LAW AND ORDER.

A Branch of the League Established in North Omaha.

Monday night a very successful meeting was held in the basement of the Saunders street Presbyterian church at which a branch of the Law and Order league was established. It was called to order by Mr. Taylor and Mr. O. H. Ballou stated the object of the same to be to aid in the enforcement of the law in all cases of infraction. The aim was not necessarily directed against the enforcement of the Slocum law with regard to saloons. It was of broader import, embracing the law in its entirety, and it was stated that the league will be in operation in a few days.

An executive committee consisting of the following members was appointed: O. H. Ballou, Chas. Watts, John Trench, T. B. Barnes, S. N. Gustin, Will H. Anderson, E. B. Russell, and John McKewen. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the president, and $100 was subscribed to carry out the plans of the league.

The Last Acts of Mr. Estelle's Official Career.

District Attorney Estelle yesterday arranged Messrs. Woodford and Sullivan, charged with burglarizing Mrs. Davis' dry goods store on Sixteenth street. Both pleaded guilty.

He also filed an information against Valentine Lipp for receiving money under false pretenses, and Patton charged with perjury, the latter being the young man who ran away with and married the daughter of Mr. James McAdell, several months ago. The latter two will be prosecuted by Mr. Simmer, who succeeded Mr. Estelle. The former two will be sent to the penitentiary, thus increasing the number of those who have been sent there by Mr. Estelle during the present term to sixteen. Mr. Estelle has taken up his permanent residence here and will continue to practice at the bar after retiring from official life.

Smith's Small Parcels.

Mr. B. F. Smith is now seriously considering what to do with several parcels of property which belong to him and lie adjacent to lots in the main thoroughfare which are now being most thickly improved. He owns twenty-two feet on Farnam street adjoining the lot of A. Cahn in the northeast corner of Fourteenth street, on which the latter gentleman proposes to erect his $150,000 building. If the latter could be engaged by the erection of a building of similar design on Smith's property, the value and the beauty of the location would be immensely enhanced. The same condition obtains with reference to Mr. Smith's lot immediately east of the Merchants' National bank, which is now in course of erection on the corner of Thirteenth and Farnam streets. It is probable that in each of these Mr. Smith's determination to build will be made in a few days, because the buildings contemplated can now be erected with much less expense than if they would be put up at a distant time.

Careless Friends.

Yesterday morning a well dressed lady in the lobby of the post office wrote the following address upon a parcel and deposited the latter for transmission: "Mrs. M. E. Weeks, G. T. Smith's block, room 88." There is no such place in town, and to find out where the building in question is Superintendent Stevens will be compelled to make inquiries of the postmasters in many of the leading cities. The parcel contains a beautiful chenille shawl, which is evidently intended as a present, and yet, as it now stands, it will not be able to reach its destination. Mr. Stevens says that the majority of parcels addressed in the office are badly directed, and result in either untold annoyance or loss of the package, and frequently both.

THE COURT MARTIAL SYSTEM.

An Army Officer Makes Comments Thereon.

"It is a startling fact, shown up by reliable figures," said an army officer yesterday, "that 50 per cent. of the soldiers in department were, during the past year, tried by court martial. Most of them, of course, were tried for petty offenses, such as drunkenness, being off duty without leave of absence. This is a pitiful showing, and at the same time it is not to be despised. It shows that there is something radically wrong with the present system of court martial. As the thing is now, if a soldier goes off or becomes intoxicated, he is immediately tried by court martial, and sentenced to a term in the guard house. That relieves him from duty and throws the work on the men who behave themselves. This discourages the good soldiers and helps the bad ones. The fact is there ought to be a fixed code of laws, rigidly enforced, with a certain punishment for each offense—something similar to the rules which obtain in the police court. Then a soldier who disobeys these laws would know just what punishment to expect. Under the present system a soldier, tried by court martial, might get a sentence, more severe or more lenient than a soldier who commits the very same crime, but is tried by a different court-martial board. In my opinion there ought to be less guard-house sentence and more flogging done. Let a soldier understand that an infringement of the law is going to cost him the half or whole of his month's pay, and he will be pretty apt to keep straight. For that reason a fixed code of laws and fines ought to be determined upon."

New Engines for the Union Pacific—Mr. Bogue's Arrival.

About the end of this week the Union Pacific will receive from Baltimore ten new engines for heavy work. These engines will be used for freight trains and are known as "black-burners." They are so constructed as to burn slack-coal—a species of fuel which until recently has been useless. In this way a great saving in the item of fuel will be effected. It is said that this fuel is capable of giving out as great heat as the best quality of coal, and is not so expensive.

The new structure will be 43x132 feet, with four stories and basement, costing $40,000, and a design in harmony with that already erected at the corner mentioned. ## Mrs. Dillman's Death.

The remains of Mrs. Henry Dillman will arrive by the Union Pacific from Cheyenne this morning at 7:55 o'clock. They will be accompanied by Mr. Dillman and his three children and Mrs. John Richards of this city, mother of the deceased. The remains will be borne to the residence of the latter, 219 Harney street, from which place the funeral will take place at 3 o'clock on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Dillman had been sick for a couple of weeks, and her mother was called from this city to her side. Several letters were received from her, the last telling her children in this city to celebrate Christmas happily, because their sister was considered out of danger. The next day a telegram was received announcing Mrs. Dillman's death.
